

Will County Audubon Society

In the mid 1940's, a group of birders got together and formed a local Audubon Club. The group officially became the Will County Chapter of the Illinois Audubon Society (IAS) in 1971. The IAS is a not-for-profit conservation organization chartered by the State of Illinois in 1897 and is one of the oldest conservation groups in the entire Midwest.

Both organizations are dedicated to conserving wildlife and habitat statewide and in Will County. Many Will County Audubon members volunteer with Spring & Christmas Bird Counts, along with serving as interpreters at the Lake Renwick Heron Rookery and Nature Preserve in Plainfield, IL.
